MAGGIORE

FOAM
MADE IN ITALY

MAGGIORE is a fully balanced hybrid mattress designed to meet the expectations of the most demanding customers. It combines the best features of spring and foam mattresses. The significant height of the mattress in combination with the highest quality components provides excellent springiness, mapping the anatomical curvature of the spine and reducing pressure. The mattress uses HYDROLATEX foam made from a combination of highly elastic foam and rubber milk. This gives it the resilience of latex and excellent ventilation. The top layer is the latest generation of VISCO CAMILCA comfort foam. It contains bio-components in the form of camomile oil, which makes it very durable and retains its full performance over a long period of use. The foams are supported by a stable pocket insert with reinforced sides and the AIR FLOW ventilation system. The whole is completed with a BIORYTMIC cover quilted with an additional three centimetres of SOFTTOUCH foam and sides upholstered with contrasting graphite-coloured fabric.

COVER

BIORYTMIC – a fabric containing natural minerals which, by radiating natural energy, positively influence "communication" within the body and the flow of energy in the body. They are responsible for the proper functioning of the body, which is an essential prerequisite for the prevention of illness and the maintenance of health. The effects of mineral therapy can be tested on the body with a simple balance test. You will feel rejuvenated, your stress levels will decrease, your body will relax better, you will regenerate, and your overall well-being will improve. You will get up rested and regenerated and your body will be full of strength and energy. Thermo elastic foam is sewn into the cover for optimum comfort.

TOSCANIA

FOAM
ITALY

The TOSCANIA mattress is designed to provide the perfect sleeping atmosphere. It guarantees all the best in a hybrid mattress: excellent springiness, mapping of the anatomical curvature of the spine and pressure reduction. It is distinguished, however, by its innovative approach to the sleeping climate. The HERBAL foam is enriched with camomile extract, which gives it antiseptic, anti-inflammatory properties and soothing. It also helps with rheumatism and has a calming effect. The top layer is a new generation of AQUA SLEEP foam containing 'intelligent' PCM capsules to actively regulate body temperature. The foams are supported by a stable pocket insert with the AIR FLOW ventilation system. The whole is completed with a SILVER VISCO cover. Ionised with silver ensures the reduction of bacterial and dust mite development. The well-thought-out design of the mattress means that the properties of the individual components complement each other, guaranteeing hygienic sleep and optimal ventilation.

COVER

SILVER cover – a unique, luxurious fabric, specially developed SILVER PROTECT, which has an antimicrobial effect thanks to silver ionisation. This means that after just two hours, it reduces the number of micro-organisms and bacteria by up to 90 per cent. For optimum comfort, the cover has a sewn-in thermo-elastic foam.

LUGANO TOP

FOAM
ITALY

The LUGANO mattress is the manifestation of a sophisticated and perfectly thought-out mattress profiling system. The exceptional quality of the foams and the order in which their individual layers are combined ensures excellent sleeping comfort. The removable mattress topper used here allows you to change the firmness of the mattress and avoid problems with overheating during hot summer days. High-quality used high-plastic foam guarantee maximum comfort and excellent elasticity, and special shaping of foams in the form of springy air channels allows for perfect adaptation of the mattress surface to the natural curvature of the human body, while ensuring an optimal sleeping microclimate on the surface mattress. The ultra-modern OXYGEN foam used here, for the manufacture of which active oxygen is used, provides a feeling of freshness and supports the comfort of rest.

COVER

The two-sided cover on a removable topper allows the mattress to have two intermediate firmnesses and maintain a microclimate on the mattress surface that is appropriate for the season. On one side one is a BIORYTMIC cover quilted with comfortable VISCO foam and the other is a LYOCCELL cover quilted with air-conditioning fibres to guarantee better breathability and the ability to absorb moisture from the human body. The basis of the mattress is high quality LAVENDER foam, which not only provides stable support, but also increases the breathability of the mattress in the lower part of the mattress.

BERGAMO

FOAM
ITALY

A mattress that loves your spine. A mattress not only provides ideal support for your spine, it also ensures that the discs of your spine are properly "nourished" and "lubricated" by the spinal fluid. As a result, during the day, our spinal column is properly cushioned and better able to withstand all the stresses to which it is exposed during the day. This effect has been achieved thanks to the firmer side of the mattress made of a special HR foam with a density of 45 kg/m³, incised in contour lines, which stretches the body from the head, causing the spine to stretch and relax of the spinal discs. The softer side of the mattress is made of modern GREENGEL ice foam, which provides exceptional comfort during sleep and ensures that the microclimate on the surface of the mattress is close to that of the natural pH of the skin. The amazing ability of this foam to reduce pressure on the human body, eliminates problems with the blood supply to the muscles and skin tissues, thus reducing the skin's ageing process, just like a spa treatment. The CELLFLEX comfort foam from Italy, which forms the nucleus of the mattress, also provides outstanding resilience and point elasticity, allowing the mattress to adapt to the needs of the body. It follows the natural curves of the body, supporting the body over the entire surface. Special air channels in this foam allow the free, immediate exchange of excess heat, air and moisture from the mattress, thus preventing the formation of unpleasant odours inside. The high quality of all the foams used is a guarantee not only of comfort, but also of the durability of the mattress, which will retain the same qualities for many years. This is complemented by the BIORYTMIC mattress cover, which draws on the traditions of Chinese natural medicine and also takes care of the mattress's health for our immune system and supports us energetically.

COVER

BIORYTMIC – a fabric containing natural minerals which, by radiating natural energy, positively influence "communication" within the body and the flow of energy in the body. They are responsible for the proper functioning of the organism, which is an essential prerequisite for the prevention of disease and the maintenance of health. The effects of mineral therapy can be tested by means of a simple balancing test. As a result of the mineral therapy, you will feel rejuvenated, your stress level will decrease, your body will relax better, you will regenerate and your general well-being will improve. You will get up rested and regenerated and your body will be full of strength and energy.

BIORYTMIC COVER

The BIORYTMIC cover is the result of the synergy of modern science and Chinese folk medicine. It utilises the old maxim of traditional Chinese folk medicine, which states that disease prevention should come first. Since the human organism is a very complex system with individual interactions of organs and tissues, the Chinese natural medicine seeks to ensure adequate communication between the various organs of the human body. It does this by means of "meridians" – communication channels located on the surface of the human body. Usually, this communication is disrupted by negative factors such as stress, overwork, excessive workload, lack of sleep, unhealthy lifestyles, and the consequence is the body's susceptibility to disease.

Alternative treatments such as acupuncture or healing stones are able to balance positive energy levels. The BIORYTMIC cover works on the same principle. The healing minerals it contains emit energies that have a beneficial effect on our health. There is a perceptible improvement in well-being, increased vitality and rejuvenation of the entire organism. As a result, there is better communication throughout the body.

BIORYTMIC mineral therapy

Effects:

- strength and balance
- rejuvenation of the body and increased resilience
- relaxation and freshness
- increased coordination skills
- stress reduction

The effects of this therapy can be tested after only a few minutes, and you can check your body's ability before and after BIORYTMIC therapy yourself.

Regulate your biorhythm!

SWISS INNOVATION
INSIDE

DA VINCI DUO SIDE is a hybrid mattress that is innovation in the segment of mattresses with pocket springs. Double pocket spring system – multipocket 1000 and micro springs, is a progressive system, making it suitable for a wide range of clients. Excellent copying process, supported by high-quality Swiss-made foams, helps the silhouette to adapt perfectly to low and high orthopaedic loads. The two-sided design allows the user to choose the right firmness for themselves. The soft side features comfortable, Swiss-made EvoPoreHRC foam, while on the firm side there is comfortable VISCOORANGE foam and firm LAVENDER foam. This also makes it possible to change usable side during the summer heat to ensure a better, healthier sleeping microclimate. The ergonomic design, with a very large number of body support points, provides a feeling of comfort on each side of the mattress, adequate support for the spine and adequate blood supply to the skin. The body's regeneration process is more efficient at this point, and sleep itself is more pleasant, giving energy for the whole working day.

AMALFI

FOAM
ITALY

This is a mattress that provides stable, firm support while ensuring ergonomic body positioning during sleep. A solid base of ELIOCELL foam with a density of 35kg/m^3 provides adequate support to the body over the entire surface, while at the same time ensuring maximum ventilation of the mattress. A layer of 6 cm of specially moulded LAVENDER foam with a density of 40kg/m^3 provides adequate springiness to the mattress, and thanks to the air channels, removes excess air from the mattress. The elasticity of the mattress allows the body to adopt the best sleeping position, guaranteeing proper and healthy sleep in accordance with the individual NREM and REM sleep phases. High-quality comfort and excellent properties of the mattress surface adapting to the human body are ensured by the Italian NIGHTFLY foam, which is produced from safe materials that do not contain the CFC agent. The high thermal comfort and hygiene of the mattress are enhanced by the Italian AIRGEL foam sewn into the cover. This sensational foam perfectly manages the heat emitted by the human body, preventing overheating during sleep in the first phase and excessive cooling in the final phase.

COVER

LYOCELL – A material whose properties are favoured for the manufacture of mattresses. Thanks to its high quality, the fibre is velvety soft, retains its shape well and is a very luxurious material. LYOCELL is a 100% natural product based on wood cellulose. The material absorbs and wicks away moisture very well and dries quickly, thus maintaining high mattress hygiene. The material is naturally antibacterial. The cover of the side part of the mattress has been produced in combination with a 3D ventilation belt, for improved air conditioning. The cover is washable at 60°C .
